Many noncompliant products from China

AMSTERDAM, Friday

The Netherlands Market Surveillance Authorities (VWA) intend to start a program together with the Department of Healthcare aimed at establishing better quality control systems in factories in China. The VWA's annual report showed that too often there is something wrong with products made in China.

The majority (70 percent) of imported consumer products has its origin in China. Customs inspectors and the product safety authorities cannot check all products imported, although it was established that in 20% of the cases something is noncompliant. In 2008 the number of recalls doubled, most likely due to more strict market surveillance on safety.

许多来自中国的产品 不符合安全要求

荷兰阿姆斯特丹，星期五

荷兰市场监测机构（荷兰食品及消费类产品安全部 VWA）计划与保健部联合对在中国的工厂采取措施，以建立更好的质量控制系统。根据 VWA 的年度报告显示，中国制造的产品经常被检出不合格。

大多数（约 70%）的进口消费品来自中国。海关检查员和经济管制当局无法对所有的进口产品进行检查，但仍然发现有 20% 的产品不符合安全的要求。就 2008 年的统计所得，产品召回个案已上升一倍，其最大可能是因市场对于产品的安全监控更为严格。
